TILIA CRACKLE

Mirror Finish & Medium Weight

The newest addition to this range adds a textured and tactile element to the otherwise minimal design. Tilia Crackle features a crackle inspired texture debossed into the front and back of each handle, blending seamlessly into each utensil head. Tilia Crackle decoration is inspired by the crackled glazing applied on to dinnerware, where, during the kiln firing process, the glaze cracks and makes a beautiful irregular optical effect. Available in mirror polished finish only.

KARRI MIRROR

Mirror Finish & Heavy Weight

The Karri tree is a type of eucalyptus tree found in Western Australia and is considered sacred by the Aborigines. Karri's minimal straight appearance is both confident and innovative. The heavy gauged steel of the forks and spoons give beautiful weight and balance. The standing-up knife blade is sleek, with no traditional bolster from handle into blade. A gorgeous seamless transition from handle in blade. It is very comfortable to hold in the hand and use.

MAHOGANY SATIN

Satin Finish & Heavy Weight

The fruit of the Mahogany tree is the inspiration for Mahogany cutlery. The shape of the fruit was imagined to be pressed into metal to create a spoon bowl. The strong Mahogany trunks, inspired the slender to thick tapered handles. Mahogany cutlery has been designed to high light the functional area of a utilitarian object by making a feature of the manufacturing processes that go into creating cutlery.

The edges of the handles are finished with crafted radii to ensure a delicate ergonomic feeling to the hand, whilst the varying thickness gauges in the handles have been engineered for refined weight and balance.

OKINA SATIN

Satin Finish & Heavy Weight

Okina is the physical embodiment of Yin & Yang, light and dark. Two contrasting knife designs, form part of one contrasting collaboration; the Orient inspired curvaceous knives and the European minimal straight knives. Okina allows users to change the aesthetic of the table setting through the switching of different knives, whilst using the same forks and spoons. The playfulness and adaptability we love, use the straight knife for lunch service, and the curved knives for evening service.

Hidden beneath the handles is a reference to the historical “King’s Pattern”. This can be placed on display on the table, or concealed like the King himself. The Royal Oak is the name given to the oak tree in which Charles II of England hid to escape the Roundheads during The Battle of Worcester in 1651. An ancient oak, thought to be from an acorn from the original, still stands at Boscobel in Shropshire.

JAPANESE CHOPSTICKS

Japanese chopsticks frequently are square in the handle, and the tips are more pointy and thinner in size. They are beautifully balanced, light, so as to be very agile in the hand. The characteristics of the simple classic style with tiny logo detail at the end, allow for a character and premium design detail.

GROVE TONGS

Grove Tongs are designed with careful consideration to function and ergonomics. William designed the dynamic look of the tongs, to give the appearance of the tongs floating architecturally off the kitchen or dining table surface. The utensil head is innovative with pierced cut-outs within the form of the head, these cut-outs allow foodstuff to be gripped internally, with a gentler cupping of the food so as not to damage the food. This has eliminated the historical serrated teeth that are frequently used in tongs.

OUR SUSTAINABLE COMMITMENT

We're proud to have achieved the EcoVadis Silver Medal, placing us among the top 15% of companies assessed globally for sustainability performance.

This recognition reflects our commitment to responsible business practices across environmental management, ethics, labour & human rights, and sustainable procurement.

Our mission is simple- to design and make beautiful and elegant cutlery made to last generations. That makes Studio William and Charingworth inherently sustainable as after our cutlery has been cherished over generations it can easily be recycled. This is only possible by using high quality solid stainless steel and master tooling craftspeople who refine the nuances of each edge, curve and contour.

Our industry-first compostable packaging earned us the prestigious Green Good Design Award, while the biodegradable poly bags we use protects each item and reduces environmental impact.
